

Final Exam Schedule

Fall 2024

Please Note:

1. The hour listed as the start time for the course will include all classes that start within that clock hour. So, if your class starts at 9:15, 9:30, or 9:45, it belongs to the 9 or 9:30 am exam group for that day. Similarly, if your course is only a MF course, it is being lumped in with the MWF schedule, and T or H-only courses fit within the TH group.
2. For classes that begin at 4:30 pm or later and are on Monday, Tuesday, or Wednesday, the final exam will be given at the regularly scheduled class time during finals week.

Final Examination Policy

For full semester courses, final examinations are given during the last week of the term at the times indicated on the published final exam schedule, which is available online. Students should arrange to complete exams during the published times. Students with three examinations on one day may request to take the last scheduled examination on another day. Such a request to reschedule must be presented to the instructor one week prior to the test day. The instructor will make arrangements for the student to be tested on another day.

Accelerated courses will give the final examination during the last week of the class, usually on the final day of class. Individual instructors will notify course participants of the exact final exam date.
